ANNOUNCEMENTS: Treasurer Frank Semon has $1,175 in the till with only 3 weeks left in the quarter. He expects luncheon costs to be about $600.

SPEAKER: Syreeta Smith of G&G Creative Catering grew up in a military family living in different countries around the world. After graduating from Howard University she started work with a service company. One of the businesses she approached as a future client was G&G Catering who were so impressed with her that they hired her away from the service company. Syreeta loves her work and all the people at G&G. She is doing very well and has found a job for life! G&G was started 12 years ago by Dana Gans and his partner Goodwin. Dana is the business manager and John Scott does the creative cooking. Syreeta specializes in corporate conventions, lunches and sales meeting whether seated meals or outside barbecues. She also does wedding, barmitzvahs and wine tasting and will find you the size location you need to hold your affair. G&G will arrange for china, glasses, tables and chairs. They can provide catering for from 10 to 25,000 people! They presently are the caterers for several of the museums in town and one of their largest clients is Black & Decker. Call Syreeta at 410-823-5050 for leads on anyone needing catering.

50/50 WINNER: Ron Harman took the $$. Syreeta supplied a large delicious dessert tray from G&G Catering.

SPEAKER NEXT FRIDAY: Tuley Wright of Allied Van Lines.
